Socially we are looking up. Horse Show week stares us in the face. November weddings are more numerous than the sands of the sea.

Cards are out for one big reception-that of Mrs. Randolph Hutchinson, for the Carey Hutchinsons of New York, on November 14, and I can't begin to enumerate the infinite number of small things for the brides And the theaters were never better. So there you are.

be one, there is consolation in the fact that you may go to the dozen weddings of your at friends and be an appreciative observer. That will help some.

The shops are lively and full of those nastel fints that drive one mad with envy. The streets are even livelier, and everybody is home and getting gowns made. Few persons of prominence are to be in mourning this winter. That will help some more. And the countless numers of new men that every girl is chattering about is all that I need add to the gleeful category.

Maud Wells's cards came out last week, though the date is November 12. Her wedding party will be among the largest of the season. Julia Knapp is to be the especially honored maid, while the others are all Miss Wells's intimate chums and members of a little club which has met and lunched for several years. Miss Susan Larkin Thomson, Miss Florence Streett, sister of the bride-groom-elect; Miss Martha Hutchinson, Miss Mary McRee, Miss Helen Dodd and Miss Mary Dickinson of Chicago are the maids. Miss Dickinson, Miss Knapp and the bride were schoolmates at Dobbs Ferry three years ago.

Mr. Streett's best man is Brewer Eddy of Mew York. The ushers and groomsmen have been selected, and include Ross Glasgow, Ralph Simpkins, Graham Wilson, Leslie Thompson, Harry Langenberg, Ingraham Boyd, James L. Ford, Jr., Eider Hollowell and Erastus and Lloyd Wells.

What a stupendous hit thoughtfulness on the part of man makes with woman!
"He's positively the nicest man I ever maw," exclaimed a girl of my acquaintance, who belongs neither to the bread-and-butter age nor yet to the spinster epoch. She spoke concerning one of the many "new" mascu-lines who have arrived in town the last few months, and some of whom society is begin-ming to pet considerably. "Why is he nice? Oh, variously; but I'll tell you what he did the other day in the street car that has endeared him to me forever. Sallie and I met him downtown, and he rode to Grand avenue with us. I took off rode to Grand avenue with us. I took off my coat, and, as there happened to be a good stiff draft blowing through the car, in about three minutes I began to sneeze. One reverent bend of the head was followed by symptoms of another, and I began groping for my pocket and my handkerchief with that helpless feeling we all have under similar dreumstances. You know that ou will surely perish if you can't find your andkerchief. "The man-bless him-who had been chaffing spiritedly with Sallie, divined in an in-stant what I wanted, and, quick as a flash, stant what I wanted, and, quick as a flash, cut came an immaculate white silk mouchoir from some coat pocket, which he bended to me quietly, going on with his conversation with Sallie in politest fashion, while I gratefully buried my head in the silk and continued to sneeze my nose off.

"Wasn't that smart of him, and so thoughtful? I can tell you, it's those little things which women like, and which some men never seem to think of, that counk in the long run." finished my enthusiastic triend, as she hopped into her auto and whizzed off.

Speaking of automobiles reminds me of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Goodwin, whom I saw frequently on West End boulevards last week, during their engagement. They have set big, yellow-wheeled machine and a soberfaced chauffeur, and they went out every fine morning. Nat sat on the front low dishboard and looked like a small boy perched there to see all the sighta. Mrs. "Nat" were a huge beaver coat—the fur beaver, I mean, with a big black hat—sitg beside the chauffeur, very straight, also y handsome. They took their rides so-rly and with becoming dignity.

Not in many nuturans have we seen so bretty a church wedding as the Kennard-Wallace affair last Wednesday at St. John's.

the afternoon at one place. To be sure, the new church, surprisingly small, when you consider only the outside, was an attraction; but I suspect the popularity of the bride had much to do with it.

Mr. William G. Boyd came home from his effice early, put on his freck coat and announced himself as ready to accompany Mrs. Boyd, declaring that he wouldn't miss seeing Mary Kennard married for worlds, and he was not the only man in the church, by a large majority.

seeing Mary Kennard married for worlds, and he was not the only man in the church, by a large majority.

Big bunches of soft, feathery, white chrysanthemums gave the auditorium a festal air, the first seven or eight pews being decorated on their ends with these upright bunches, tied with white satin streamers. The chancel was filled with beautiful palms, some of them immensely tall and very effective in the rear. Violina, organ and harp played softly from behind this green bower. The ushers, augmented by "Joe" Wear, looking happy over his engagement to Miss Potter, and Will Price, were amply able to cope with the larse number of guests; but the seating capacity of the church did not begin to be adequate, and dozens of guests stood during the entire ceremony. The bridesmaids' gowns were perfect beauties and objects of much interest. They were white taffeta, you know, with much Irish point applied, while their hats were rof white beaver, covered with plumes. The Schrysanthemum muffs were a very pretty stouch, large yellow flowers being used, with streamers of green smilax trailing down the front of their skirt hems. The bride's gown was one of the most becoming satin gowns I have ever seen. Much point lace in a deep

Front of their skirt hems. The bride's gown are one of the most becoming satin gowns. I have ever seen. Much point lace in a deep sulmpe and bertha about the shoulders made the bodice effective, while the triple matrix was outlined with bands of tissue rose petals and orange blossoms. She wore a sarge corsage ornament of odd-shaped pearls and damonds as her only jewels.

Miss Sa Lees Keunard looked exceedingly well in pale blue, the gown of French volle, embroidered in very delicate blues and rose tints, with the skirt bordered in narrow scale. Her hat was a large, flaring blue beaver, covered with blue ostrich plumes.

The cleaning establishments will reap a rich harvest this season. One can see that with half an eye. The dictum for white and pastel-tinted gowns has gone forth in the East, and we humbly follow suit out in this land of soft coal and dust. The number of white, cream and "oyster" gowns is St. John's Wednesday was autorishing. Mrs. Albert Bond Lambert wore one of the grettlest. The cloth was oyster-white, and the material French broadcloth, trimmed in leads of lovely Irish point and ermine tails. With this went a plateau hat of ermine, mothing allowed to interfere with the effect of the fur, while about her shoulders was a deep cape boa of white chiffon, the stole ends reaching to the bottom of her skirt. As Mrs. Lambert has lost none of her exquisite coloring by a residence of four years in Paris, the costume was eminently becoming.

Miss Georgette Boswell, who is beginning to lighten her mourning, wore white accordion-pleated crepe de Chine, whi'e Mrs. Alfred Hebard's gown, with pleated white hat to correspond, was almost identical.

Mrs. Edward Simmons wore a cream cioth gown, embroidered in cream and pink, and Mrs. Tom Maffitt, who came with her was in a blue pompadour silk, the flowers of pink. Her hat was a small plateau of blue chiffon, blue ribbon ruchings and Irish grochet.

Mrs. Max Kotany, who brought Miss Ada-line Potter of Philadelphia, looked very stunning in a pastel blue cloth coat of the three-quarters length. This had a deep collar of the ubiquitous Irish lace for its only trimming and was in the triple style.

MISS MAUD WELLS WHOSE MARRIAGE TO CLARK STREETT WILL TAKE PLACE NOVEMBER 12~

Mrs. Blakesley Collins and Miss Collins, who came together, wore handsome gowns, Miss Collins's covered by a very long and sweeping kimona cloak of pastel blue broadcloth, deeply bordered with bands of gray squirrel, for which there is a decided vogue this fall.

Mrs. Thomas Carter wore a marvelous black and white appliqued gown, and Miss Clara Carter was in white etamine, much inserted with Cluny lace. Miss West wore a cream cloth, trimmed in Irish lace, her hat a small one of black velvet, with one black plume.

hat a small one of black velvet, with one black plume.

Miss Jeanne Capen, just back from New York, wore one of the prettlest gowns in the church—of blue etamine, with lace and lacings of narrow black velvet; her hat a large plateau of pale blue beaver, covered with grapes that shaded from light blue to the darkest purple-blue tints.

Miss Euston's frock was of white satin, covered with a design of grapes in embossed velvet; her hat of white beaver, with plumes. Mrs. Edward P. Pierce wore black and white dotted net over white silk, and Miss Lity Belle Pierce was in pink silk, covered with white silk mull and lace, her wide satin sash knotted high in the back and falling to the skirt hem. With this went a hat of white lace, wreathed in pink crushed roses.

crushed roses.

Mrs. Joseph G. Miller wore white cloth with a three-quarters coat of Irish point and a black velvet hat, and Mrs. Joseph Lewis was in layender silk and chiffon, with layender bet.

You may know this methodical man. He lives in town. His method consists in numbering every article of clothing which he owns, and in wearing them in order of their numbers. Thus, he reasons, every garment gets just as much wear and tear at the end of the year as its mates. He never makes a mistake, either, so they tell me, and puts on "Number 2" cuffs when it is time for "Number 4s."

"Number 4s."

Nice system, isn't it? But just suppose that, owing to a decided difference which there sometimes is in the quality of goods; just suppose that it is the day for "Number 6" hose, and when he comes to don them two small but unmistakable holes are discovered in each toe. What shall he do? Throw them into his wife's mending basket and hunt for "Number 7s"? 'And spoil the chain of 6s? Certainly not. There is the difficulty. I'd like to know how he obvictes it.

SERENA LAMB.

WEDDINGS.

Miss Katle Goetz and William Reising were married on Thurwiay evening, October 23, by the Reverend E. H. Eilis at St. Mark's Church. Miss Lillie Goetz was bridesmaid and M. Oliver Reising served as groomsman. The bride wore a cream-colored silk, trimmed in ribbons and lace, and carried roses sent by Mrs. La Croix of Guerdon, Ark. The bridesmaids wore white organdy, trimmed in ribbons and lace. A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. W. Reising will be at home to their friends at No. 1911A South Second street.

Among the weddings to take place early in November is that of Miss Alive Lillian Ivers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ivers, to Mr. Cecli P. Keating of Dallas, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Brode of Memphis announce the engagement of their daughter. Marie Louise, to Mr. Marc Leonard Fleishel of St. Louis, Mo., the marriage to take place on Thursday evening, December 4. The marriage of Miss Brode will be one of deep interest to her many friends, and the wedding will be one of the prominent nuptial events of the winter.

The marriage of Miss Virginia Michaels, daughter of Mrs. H. Reid, No. 235 Hickory street, to M. Seguin, formerly of Lyons, France, but lately removed to St. Louis, will take place on November 29. M. Seguin is the son of A. Seguin, a very promment and wealthy manufacturer of the French city. He is also a nephew of the brothers Montgolifes. Montgolfies.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murdoch of No. 5240 Ridge avenue have announced to their friends the engagement of their daughter.

Anne Thompson, to Mr. Edgar Benedict
Moore. The wedding is to take place in

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Balin have issued cards for the marriage of their daughter, Agnes to Mr. Michael A. Bena on Wednesday morning, the 5th day of November, at 9 o'clock, St. John of Nepomuk Church.

programme, followed by an informal dance, has been arranged.

ZABRISKIE OF NEW YORK

OH NOVEMBER, 19.

The next meeting of the Ten O'Clock Musical will be held at the home of Mrs. Bernard, No. 562 Fairmount avenue, No-vember 5, at 10 o'clock. The Morning Etude will meet at the home of Miss Cora Robinson, No. 4174 West Belle place, November 7, at 10 o'clock.

Chart Club Drawing-Rooms will be held Monday, November 3, at 3 p. m., by Mrs. Celeste Pim. No. 5163 Washington avenue; Tuesday, November 4, 11 a. m., by Mrs. Kurtzeborn, No. 325 Pine street; Weditesday, November 5, 11 a. m., by Mrs. J. G. Nugent, corner Maple avenue and Thornby place; Thursday, November 6, 3 p. m., by Mrs. H. A. Williams, No. 4152 Castleman avenue, and Saturday, November 5, 11 a. m., by Mrs. Maria I. Johnston, at Berlin Hotel. French division as usual.

The members of Harmony Literary Circ'e met at the residence of Mrs. McKinlay on Blackstone avenue, and the session was most enjoyabre.

The programme was arranged for the following ladies to participate:

Mcsdamer—
Boves.

Vance.

Boyes, Logan, Weist, Pellet,

Weist, McKinley.

Pellet,

"Les Miserables," by Victor Hugo, is to form the subject again for the second meeting of the Greek Ethics Club, next Wednesday afterneon at 4 o'clock, in the west wing of the Museum of Fine Arts. The date of the meeting was put over one week by request, in order not to conflict with the seasons of the Wednesday Club. The director has issued a series of questions concerning the various characters, and these will form the basis of discussion after the introductory paper has been read on the character of Jean Valjean. The last meeting was the most animated one which has been held for a number of years, and recalled to the minds of the members the debates several years ago over the characters in Shakespeare. The opening paper was read by Miss F. M. Bacon, and then came an exciting discussion over the rolnts of the novel. "The good Bishoo" was looked upon by some with enthusiasm and denounced rather severely by others. The greatest division of opinion was with regard to the subtle character of the police agent, Javert. At the next meeting Jean Valjean will probably form the chief center of dispute. Miss Helen Schwaner of No. 331 Florissant avenue is to act as secretary of the Greek Ethics Club this season.

The P. E. O. Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. R. A. Ogle, No. 444 Delmar boulevard. The afternoon was spent in the study and general discussion of the "Poet Lovers." The poems under consideration were "One Word More." "Oh. Lyric Love." by Robert Browning, and "The Sonnets of the Portuguess." by Mrs. Browning. In the course of the discussion Miss Jones was loudly applauded.

loudly applauded.

A large number of ladies attended the Literary Symposium Thursday morning to hear the discussion of "King Lear." Mrs. Griffith contrasted the Lear of tradition and Shakespeare's King Lear. bringing out the great problem of the play—the energy and power of evil in the overthrow of state and home. She-read several selections from the drama, closing with the three madmen in the storm.

A general table-talk followed on Lear's madness; was he predisposed to insanity from the beginning, or made suddenly mad by his frenzy of grief and rage? Among the visitors present were Mrs. Joseph W. Folk and Miss Edith Moses.

"Cordella the Ideal Daughter," is the topic for Thursday morning, November 6, at 10 o'clock, at Hotel Beers. day morning, the 5th day of November, at 5 o'clock, St. John of Nepomuk Church.

The wedding of Miss Edna' Beatrice Pilcher to Mr. Stuart Knappen of Grand Rapids, Mich., will take place on November 5, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Lindeil Avenue Methodist Church. Mrs. John Wallser Barriger, Jr., will be mairon of honor, and the Misses Florence Newby, Lena Dula, Emma Nickeen, Rose Naile of Austin, Tex.; Florence Knappen of Grand Rapids, and Katherine Mailtand of Marquette, Mich., will be bridesmalds. The best man is Fred Knappen, while ushers and groomsmen are Farris D. Stevens, Henry T. Heald and E. Beckey Jones, all three of Grand Rapids; Standish Backus of Detroit, Ladd Coleman of Detroit, and Ted Pilcher of St. Louis. A reception at the Pilcher home will solve the bride and her malds, while Mr. Pilcher entertains the men at the same time at the Mercantile Club. On Tuesday Mrs. Brains and Allison will give a buffet luncheon to the bride and her malds, while Mr. Pilcher entertains the men at the same time at the Mercantile Club. On Tuesday Mrs. Brains and Allison will give a luncheon to the entertains the men at the same time at the Mercantile Club. On Tuesday Mrs. Brains and Allison will give a luncheon to the entertains the men at the same time at the Mercantile Club. On Tuesday Mrs. Brains and Allison will give a luncheon to the entire party followed by a church rehearsal. That same evening Mrs. Barriger will dine the party.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

A large number of ladies attended the Literary Swpopola morning Thredition and Shakespeare's King Lear, bringing out the givent the discussion of "King Lear, bringing out the givent problem of the play—the energy mand power of evil in the overthrow of sting from the braid and power of evil in the overthrow of sting from the brides and power of evil in the overthrow of sting from the brides and power of evil in the overthrow of e

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

J. T. M. Johnston, Mrs. J. H. Guyett, Mrs.

The L. T. Literary Society has issued invitations for a special meeting to be held at Compton Heights Hall on Monday evening. November 2. An extensive literary gramme was prepared and Miss November 3. An extensive literary gramme was prepared and Miss November 3. Mother Goose, Mrs. William McCandless;

Geiger, Miss Mabel Walton and Miss Alma Haas debated on the affirmative side of "Has Kindness More Power Than Force?" while Miss Gertrude Well, Miss Viola Greenwald and Miss Rosie Welser held the negative. Music and singing followed. Those present were:

Misses—
Wolf Greenwald. Wlola Greenwalder, Meta Kuster,
Hazel Carr,
Edna Harris,
Mabel Walton,
Gertrude Well,
Rosle Weiser,
Frieda Franke,
Nettle Geiger,
Jennie Roplo,
Matilda Erdmann,
Jeanette Boeck,
Mabel Bira,
Jessie Kirwin. president; Alma Haas, vice president; Eva Leake.

Drucie Higgins, Honorary member, Mr. W. C. Dyer. AT THE THEATERS.

Miss Elizabeth McArthur of No. 5574 Ca-banne boulevard gave a dinner and box party Thursday evening. Among those present were: Messleurs— Ben Gray, Cabell Gray,

WissesViola Robinson, Elizabeth McArthur,
Alice Hewett, May McArthur,
Margaret Post,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuhney. MISCELLANEOUS EVENTS. Rich Cut Glass-Mermod & Jaccard's.

A surprise party was given Saturday even-ing by Miss Rose Berger in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Berger at their residence, No. 1413 Carr street. The evening was spent in dancing and games. Those who partici-

Rose Berger, Fannie Hoffman, Anna Siegel, Rose Elbert, Anna Laskawitz, Ray Levy, Anna Sandler, Rose Hirschfield, Minnie Berger, Marie Pohlmann. Messieurs-Julius Levinsky, Harry Shapers, Louis Levy, Frank Yawitz, Louis Cohen, George Elberts,

A surprise party was given to Miss Louise Wilmsmeier at her home, No. 1520 Palm street, Saturday evening, Several music numbers were rendered by the Harmony String Band. Those present were:

Messieurs and Mesdames—
Wm. Schuermann. L. Ruhling.
G. Weilmann. F. Pope.
Wm. Holinstrater, P. Bremer,
E. Swetke, B. Bueilmann.
F. Bergesh, John Thompson,
L. Schwermann, Wm. Raemann.
A. Grahn,
Misses—
Clara Schuermann. Maria Bergesh,

The most beautiful trains are those of the Big Four to New York and Boston. Mr. and Mrs. M. Soltz entertained last Sunday evening at their home, No. 2125 Carr street, in honor of the engagement of their dauchter, Bessie, to Mr. Louis G. Olian. The house was decorated with American beauties and palms, and the guests, numbering about 169, were received amid strains of music rendered by an orchestra stationed in the parlor.

The bride-elect wore reseda-green peau de sole trimmed with point lace and ornamented with jeweis. A repast was served in the dining hall, which was decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations, after which dancing was indulged in until a late hour, when the guests departed. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Queen of Hearts, Miss Mary Boyce; Old King Cole, John Duer; Knave of Hearts, Miss Edgar Lackland; maids of honor, Miss Eleanor Aull, Miss Blanche Turner, Miss Irene Bond, Miss Virginia Adams; guards to the King Jack Parker, H. Cost, Charles Galt, Lockwood Hill, James Caldwell, Trenholm Marshall, Malcolm White-law, Irving La Beaume, Robert Avales, Moonbeams and Stars are Misses Lols Kill-patrick, Holms Thomson, Eugenia Howard, Sadle Cox, Anne Augustine, Adele Overall, Lily Kingsland, Celia Harris; Mother Goose's son, Jack, is Boggs Kavanaugh, Fiddiers Three are Fred Lake, Phil Chew and Norton Canon; page to the King, Leo Grace; pipe bearer, Stanley Butter; howl bearer, Frank Devol; three humpty dumpties, Brook Thompson, Wille Azard and Spencer Allen; Diddle de Dum, Mathilda Carroll; Polly Finders, Lucille Cates, Daffy-down-Dilly, Blanche Bass; Jack Horner, Clark Garrison; Little Man With the Gun, Reginald Garrison; Jack Miss Caroline Wegnand; Jill, Miss Gladys Bearch; Tom, the Piper's Son, Herbert Wiegand;

135 OUISE (HAPPELL

WHO WILL BEGOME THE BRIDE OF HORACE RUPISEY ON NOVEMBER, 19.~

Miss Bertha Pillman gave a farewell party Tuesday evening at her home, No. 2002 Bugenia street, to her sister, Mrs. Louisa Knottnerus, who has departed for Europe. An enjoyable evening was passed in singing, recitations and danging. Among those present, were:

Misree
Lillian Cafferate. THE SEE Bertha Piliman, Carrie Cafferata, Anna Casey. Mesdames— F. A. Cafferata, I. Zwicke, L. Witteman, A. Knottnerus. A surprise party was given to Miss Josie Weisel of No. 1000 Geyer avenue last Sunday evening by a few of her intimate friends. Dancing was indulged in till midnight. Then the guests adjourned to the spacious dining-room, where a repast was served. The house was decorated with American beauties and evergreens. Mr. Emil J. Hagtmann acted as master of ceremonies, Among those present were:

L. E. Green & Son

Have just received an additional importation of

Trimmed Dats from Paris

Indicating the styles prevailing there at present, and suitable for

"Horse Show" Wear.

New Trimmed Hat Dep't, 2d Floor.

408 North Broadway.

KNABE

THE NAME KNABE TELLS IT.

CECILIAN can play it like the greater

Blanche Pell, Ida Williams, Laura Williams, Mary Williams, Mrs. W. H. Pell,

Max Weisl,
Max Weisl,
Emil J. Hartmann,
Sam Newman,
Sam Steiner,
Edward Steiner,
Willia n Steiner,
Dave Ofner,
Jos. Kohn,
Milton Haas,
Morris of Springfield, Ill.;
Reddick of Dr. Bond and Dr. Montgomery, expert opticians, at Mermod & Jaccard's. Broadway and Locust, will examine your eyes free of charge, and fit them properly, if glusses are needed. Steel frames, $1 and up; gold $5 and up.

Springfield, Ill.; Meyer Lehman, Gus Lehman, Sam Jacques, Louis Freund, Oscar Loebner, Sam Loebner, Henry Heyman, Morris Adler, Phil H. Solomon o Cincinnatt, O.

monies. Among those present were:

Misses—
Hattie Bernstein of Newport, Ark.
Etta Heilborn of Osage Cily. Kas.
Fannie Haas.
Sarah Haas.
Sarah Haas,
Katie Hartmann,
Rose Benjamin.
Birdle Benjamin.
Pauline Jacques,
Ray Jacques,
Ray Jacques,
Ray Jacques,
Messieurs—

Lida Holtz,
Annie Adler.
Gadie Adler.
Josie Weisl,
Josie Weisl,
Belle Davidson,
Emma Bondi.

Red Riding Hood, Miss Margaret Rex; Crooked Man, Whitelaw Reid Arien; Simple Simon, Vandegarde Garesche; Peter Pump-kin and his wife, George and Lida Wiegand.

Lillian Cafferata,

Christina Costa, Selma Uscholt, Elizabeth Regan, Margaret Regan,

Massleurs

Wm. Connors,
Frank A. Cafferaata, Jr.;
Lee Reber,
E. Hasefritter,
F. Hasefritter.

The following young people were enter-tained by Misses Mina and Bess Rudisill Sunday evening at their home, No. 1903 Bremen avenue: Misses Margaret Walsh, Smith: Messrs. Doctor Rufus Bodine, Paris, Mo.; Doctor Charles L. Henderson, Colum-bia, Mo., and James Baker, St. Louis, Music was the feature of the evening.

A party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Powell last Tuesday night at their home, No. 4605 Cottage avenue, in honor of the birthday of their daughter. Leila. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and dancing and various games were in-dulged in. Songs by Mr. and Mrs. Powell and Miss Essie Flistead were enjoyable features of the evening. Among the guests were:

Leons Stinson, Laura Powell,

Jessie Puba.
Messieurs—
Edward Schoefer.
Oren Stine.
Roy Lee
Edward Gross.
Frank Williams.
James Nole.

The Misses Lang of No. Mis Keckuk street entertained friends last Sunday evening in honor of Mr. Arthur Pritze of Alton. Ill. The evening was spent in dancing and singing. Mr. Will Mellow and Mr. John Lang rendered several vocal selections. Those present were:

Misses—
Ella Weber, Celeste Flood, Minette Beyer, Zella Conway, Tillie Anthony, Dora Weber, Messleurs—

LEE

Rea H. Fitch, Robert Brinsa

Tuesday evening ntertained friends

Miss Alice Layat of No. 2001 South Con avenue entertained her friends wi ton avenue entertained her friends Halloween party Friday night. violin selections were rendered by the hostess, after which games were played suitable to the occasion, and refreshments served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Giessow. Missesfisses— Flora Bozzalla, Emma Beell, Carrie Beell, Nonie Kelly, Rose Davidson, Alice Layat, fessioner

ALL IE

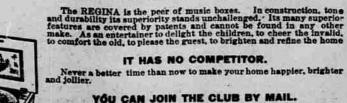

JOIN THE

We will deliver a Regina Music Box to you upon the payment of

ONE DOLLAR

The balance may be paid in small weekly or monthly payments of 50c. or more depending upon the price of the box you select. The boxes in the club cover a variety of styles and range in price from $30.00 to $155.00.

A WORD ABOUT THE REGINA.

YOU CAN JOIN THE CLUB BY MAIL. Write for a REGINA MUSIC BOX CATALOGUE, make your selection, send the dollar and two business references and the music box will be shipped anywhere in the United States as soon as your Club Membership is arranged.

Any person having bought a pisno of us need not send the reference. A music box will be sent upon receipt of one dollar.

Do not delay. This opportunity may never come again. Call or send coupon at once.

THIEBES-STIERLIN MUSIC CO.

The Piano and Music House of ST. LOUIS.

1118 Olive Street.